

Off To Adventure -
Visiting a waterfall can be an amazing adventure. Use the links and activities below to take a "virtual" adventure to the Iguazu Falls.

Start here to experience the Iguazu Falls. Drag down and click on one. When it loads you can drag your mouse around to see it in all directions.

http://www.greatestplaces.org/medias/media\_html/qtvr.html

Use the links and activities below to take a "virtual" adventure to the Iguazu Falls.

In what two countries are the Iguazu Falls located?

How many waterfalls make up the Iguazu Falls?

In what year were the Iguazu Falls first discovered?

Your next step is to learn more about Iguazu Falls. Go to Wikipedia and then answer the questions to the left. You may need to drag down to find the answers.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Iguazu\_Falls

Your next step is read some poems about waterfalls written by students.

http://www.sln.org.uk/geography/pop/water/water\_fall.htm

Multimedia Adventures - you must have Flash Player to View this Page.
You will see a flying unicorn if you do.

1. Click on this link http://www.amazingadventure.com/index\_fl.asp Then click "Adventures"
2. Move the Magnifying glass around to "Stories" and read one of the stories. You can even have it read to you.
3. Now move the magnifying glass to Cinema and watch "In a League of her Own" to see how a girl's imagination takes her on an adventure.
4. Now look at some of the poems written by children in the "Poetry Mutiny" section.

Have you every taken ad adventure to a theme park to ride the roller coasters? Use the link below to learn about the development of roller coasters.

Type in the year after the fact.

<http://www.coasterville.com/history.htm>

The first wheeled rides are built in Paris.

The first ride with a vertical loop is built. Due to safety issues it closes soon afterwards.

Walt Disney's Disneyland signaled the rebirth of amusement parks.

A mine was reopened in Mauch Chunk for riders instead of miners.

The Wall Street Crash This marks the end of the first Golden Age of coasters.

